

How often should an organisation change its mission and vision statements?

A mission statement is for a shorter time frame, so you can change it. Generally we talk about a vision for 10 to 15 years. It is the big picture and you cannot keep having a different vision or a different dream regularly. You can amend it to add more and reflect changing time but the main picture remains the same. A mission on the other hand can be amended